1000.00 LIBRARY BILL OF RIGHTS

The American Library Association affirms that all libraries are forums for information and ideas, and that the following basic policies should guide their services.

I. Books and other library resources should be provided for the interest, information, and enlightenment of all people of the community the library serves. Materials should not be excluded because of the origin, background, or views of those contributing to their creation.

II. Libraries should provide materials and information presenting all points of view on current and historical issues. Materials should not be proscribed or removed because of partisan or doctrinal disapproval.

III. Libraries should challenge censorship in the fulfillment of their responsibility to provide information and enlightenment.

IV. Libraries should cooperate with all persons and groups concerned with resisting abridgment of free expression and free access to ideas.

V. A person's right to use a library should not be denied or abridged because of origin, age, background, or views.

VI. Libraries which make exhibit spaces and meeting rooms available to the public they serve should make such facilities available on an equitable basis, regardless of the beliefs or affiliations of individuals or groups requesting their use.

VII. All people, regardless of origin, age, background, or views, possess a right to privacy and confidentiality in their library use. Libraries should advocate for, educate about, and protect people's privacy, safeguarding all library use data, including personally identifiable information.

Adopted June 19, 1939, by the ALA Council; amended October 14, 1944; June 18, 1948; February 2, 1961; June 27, 1967; January 23, 1980; January 29, 2019. Inclusion of "age" reaffirmed January 23, 1996.

1001.00 Library policy is a road map, setting out the terms of the library's operations

1002.00 Although the development of policy is accomplished in consultation with the Director, Fiscal Officer and the Management Staff, the final determination of library policy and its adoption are the sole responsibility of the Library Board of Trustees. Except for the employment and performance review of the Director and the Fiscal Officer, no other duty is more important to the library and its survival.

1003.00 Policy should be clearly stated, giving a firm foundation for the administration of the library and the relationship of the management staff with the public. Except where details are essential, as in hours of operation, the library policy should be expressed in BROAD terms, since it is the BASIS for procedure and not procedures themselves.

1004.00 Library Trustees should consider each item of policy carefully before it is adopted and recorded. The Director and Fiscal Officer are a source of informed recommendations for new or changed policies, growing out of day-to-day operation and contact with both the staff and the public.

1005.00 Once a policy has been adopted, a policy has to have the support of the entire Board of Trustees, the Director, the Fiscal Officer and the Management Staff. The Board has an obligation to support the Director, Fiscal Officer and Management Staff in carrying out Board policy. The Board should review and update their policies periodically.

1006.00 The phrase 'Mentor Public Library' includes the Board of Trustees, administration, and all staff.

1200.00 SERVICE AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE MENTOR PUBLIC LIBRARY

“Reading is the basic tool of learning.” (H.A. Foresman)

1201.00 The public Library is dedicated to the purpose of enriching the community. In its role as dispenser of information, inspiration and recreation, its most important job is the selection of books, books on tape, DVD’s, music, films and other materials. This selection must reflect the needs of all members of the community, prospective patrons as well as current patrons. Factors of demand, necessity, and enrichment shall be considered in making the selection, limited only by budget constraints.

1202.00 The Director and staff shall maintain a written selection process for purchasing materials for the Library. The process shall be approved by the Board.

1203.00 The Library maintains a variety of electronic devices for the public’s use. The Director shall develop rules for check-out and use of such devices. Such rules shall be communicated to the Board.

1204.00 All materials acquired by the Mentor Public Library such as books, video, audio, magazines, pamphlets, films and other items shall be purchased to meet the needs of the community. They are selected for the highest quality of content and format wherever possible.

1205.00 When any item either purchased or donated is no longer useful, it shall be systematically weeded from the collection according to accepted professional practices and guidelines. The disposal of this material shall be left to the discretion of the Director or designee. Weeding shall be done on a regular rotation to ensure a collection that is current, relevant, and in good physical condition.

1300.00 PUBLIC RELATIONS STATEMENT

1301.00 The Board of Trustees of the Mentor Public Library believes that quality public library service is relevant to the communities the library serves. Therefore, it establishes these following principals to be its “Philosophy of Public Relations.”

1301.10 The public will be treated to courteous and efficient service.

1301.20 The Library will respond to all perceived and anticipated needs of the communities it serves to the best of its ability.

1301.30 The public’s contact with the Library, whether it is the first or last contact, will be pleasant, non-judgmental, and professionally conducted by all staff members.

1301.40 The public will be kept informed of the services and the resources of this Library, as well as Library objectives, problems, plans, projects, and accomplishments.

1301.50 The information contained in brochures, fliers, news releases and other printed items will be factual, non-biased, and precise.

1301.60 The most powerful avenue for good “public relations” is still the word-of-mouth advertising given by the satisfied library user.

1302.00 COMMUNITY BULLETIN BOARDS AND LITERATURE RACKS

As a resource to the community, Mentor Public Library provides both bulletin boards and information racks for the posting and distribution of information related to educational, cultural, intellectual, community, or charitable activities and events. This privilege is open to all individuals and groups. Authorization for posting materials will be based on the guidelines in this policy and not on the individual viewpoints, beliefs, or affiliations of the person or group submitting the material.

All materials to be displayed must meet the following guidelines:

- Approval from the Library Director or his/her designee is required prior to posting. A reasonable period of time is required for review of the materials requested to be displayed, generally five (5) business days. Materials provided to the Library for posting will be date-stamped as of the date of submission. Unauthorized materials will be discarded.
- Limited space generally allows only short-term notices on a first-come, first served basis. Materials with an event date will not be accepted by the Library for posting earlier than fourteen (14) days prior to such event, and will be removed after such date has passed. Items which are not time-sensitive will be removed within a reasonable amount of time, generally ten (10) days after posting, but may be removed earlier based on need as determined by the Library Director or his/her designee.

- Only a limited quantity of materials can be accepted due to space considerations. No items given to the Library for display can be returned, but will be recycled as appropriate.
- Items to be displayed should be of reasonable size, generally 8 ½ X 11, or smaller.
- Priority placement will be given to groups and organizations promoting educational, cultural, intellectual, community, or charitable activities and events, and for events/activities occurring within Lake County.

The following materials are prohibited at the discretion of the Library Director or his/her designee:

- Materials which include profanity, nudity, discriminatory, defamatory, abusive, harassing, or other similarly inappropriate, obscene, or offensive content.
- Materials which promote alcoholic beverages, cigarettes or other tobacco products, or any illegal product, service, or activity.
- Materials which support or oppose any labor organization or action by, on behalf of, or against any labor organization.
- Any political materials or issue that will be voted on.

The presence of a poster, brochure, flyer, newsletter, or any other material in the Library is not an endorsement of the activity, event, or viewpoints expressed. The Library is not responsible for the accuracy of any information displayed.

1303.00 Exhibits and Displays

Exhibit and display space is used primarily for the promotion of Library materials, programs, and services. When these spaces are not otherwise in use, the Library may provide, at its discretion and subject to the stipulations below, space for the display or exhibit of collections or materials which are of general interest to the public. Exhibit and display space is not intended to be a public forum. Preference for use of exhibit and display space shall always be given to the Library for its needs and purposes.

The Library will not act as an agent for the exhibitor. Exhibitors are encouraged to post statements about their work, but price tags or the posting of price lists are not permitted.

In general, the Library does not accept commercial displays for any group unless they have a special educational, informational, or cultural value to the community.

Only displays or exhibits promoting or showcasing educational, historical, charitable, cultural, or recreational information or opportunities will be permitted. A personal or private collection must be of interest and acceptable to the general public.

The following categories of materials will not be accepted for display:

- Advertisement of any active business or commercial venture;
- Items or services being offered for sale;
- Promotion of current political officials, candidates, campaigns, parties, or issues;
- Items which are illegal, hazardous, dangerous, or harmful to the safety of persons and/or property; and
- Anything of a discriminatory, defamatory, harassing, graphic, vulgar, or obscene nature, or is otherwise inappropriate for public display.

The Library reserves the right to approve the display, content, and arrangement of all exhibits. Exhibitors shall ensure that the exhibit or display of materials is done in a safe manner that does not damage the property of the Library or any other person. The exhibitor may be held responsible for any damage caused to any property. The exhibitor is responsible for the creation, set up, and removal of the display in a timely manner.

Request for display space should be made to the Administrative Assistant at Main and to the Branch Manager at branch locations. Groups or individuals may reserve specific display areas up to twelve (12) months in advance, but may not reserve the display area for more than one month at a time. Requests for space are filled on a first-come, first-served basis. Library use of display areas takes precedence. The presence of a particular display in the Library does not indicate that the Library either advocates or endorses the viewpoints of exhibits or exhibitors.

The Library assumes no responsibility or liability for the preservation, protection, damage, or theft of any item exhibited or displayed. Items are placed on display in the Library at the owner's risk. By displaying an item, the exhibitor and owner (if different from exhibitor) of such material(s) agree that the Library shall not be liable for any harm, damage, or loss to such material(s).

The Library Director shall make the final determination as to whether materials comply with this policy. The Library reserves the right to cancel any exhibit or display or to limit the type or amount of materials to be displayed at its discretion at any time.

1400.00 BRANCHES

1401.00 “The mission of a public library is to give as much and as good service to as many citizens within its area of influence as it is possible.”

1401.10 The Board of Trustees believes a public library system must provide quality library service and materials to citizens of the communities of the Mentor Public Library District. Provisions of these services and materials are done so far as it is fiscally able to do; keeping in mind that a strong main library is needed to ensure in-depth collection and/or staff support for any size additional service units. The Mentor Public Library will continue to provide quality library service through a system of well defined service outlets which may include separate “branch” facilities.

1401.20 A “branch” is defined as an agency in its own physical space that includes a permanent collection of materials and/or provides services and programs. A ‘branch’ has paid staff members and is open to the public on a regular schedule of hours.

1401.30 The Board of Trustees adheres to the theory of branch services which states that it is mainly an agency for the circulation of popular library materials at neighborhood levels, acts as an instruction to library services, and offers limited programming.

1401.40 The Board of Trustees retains final responsibility for a decision to provide branch services in any of the neighborhoods of the communities in its primary service area.

DOCUMENTS

Mentor Public Library is not a depository library for state or federal documents.

TEXTBOOKS AND CURRICULUM RELATED MATERIALS

The library strives to provide material that promotes continued independent learning. We believe that providing textbooks and curriculum materials is the responsibility of the schools, but we will strive to provide some curriculum related materials. Selectors will purchase textbooks for the collection only if the textbooks supply information that surpasses standard books in quality or scope. The public library will not assume the responsibility for purchasing textbooks for wide and general distribution.

SELF-PUBLISHING

Self-published works are not solicited, except in cases of local or genealogical interest.

RETENTION OF LIBRARY MATERIALS

The library's ability to purchase and store materials is limited by the size of its budget and its building. Because of this, we have established criteria for retaining dated materials. These criteria may be applied to all formats.

- Retains good condition.
- Retains educational significance and contributes to the breadth and depth of the collection.

- Retains current information.

LOST AND REPLACEMENT

It is the intention of Mentor Public Library to maintain a high physical quality of materials. To this end, patrons of Mentor Public Library have two options for any lost or badly damaged items checked out to them on their library record.

- The first option is to pay for the item lost or damaged. There will be a processing fee added to the price of the item for re-cataloging.
- The second option is to purchase a new unused, identical item to replace the item that was lost or damaged. This requires prior approval by the library.

The patron's intention for replacement or paying should be made to the staff so arrangements can be made with the proper department. No refunds will be given.

1502.00 REQUESTS FOR RECONSIDERATION OF LIBRARY MATERIAL

While patrons are free to select or reject library materials for individual use, they may not enforce censorship in the lives of others. Responsibility for the reading materials of children and adolescents rests with their parents or legal guardians. The library will not act in loco parentis with regard to the selection of library materials for its juvenile patrons. Selection will not be inhibited by the fact that materials may inadvertently come into the possession of children. Since the library cannot anticipate a family's persuasion on controversial issues, the Library encourages parents to have an active and responsible interest in their child's choice of items.

If a patron has concerns about the inclusion of an item in the Library Collection, the library patron must complete the Request for Reconsideration of Library Materials Form and submit it to the Library. After the patron has returned the completed form to the Library, a response in writing will be sent to the Patron.

The Request for Reconsideration of Library Materials Form may be referred to a committee consisting of the Selector of that part of the collection, the Collection Development Manager, and other Librarians to determine whether retention of the item would be in violation of the Collection Development Policy. The committee will reconsider the item using the general criteria and specific criteria of the Collection Development Policy and reviews from recognized sources, and then make a written recommendation. They will inform the patron of their decision in writing in a timely manner.

If the patron is still not satisfied, they may submit an appeal to the Library Director. Such appeal shall not exceed two pages and should include copies of the original Request for Reconsideration of Library Materials Form and the committee's written decision. The Director will respond in writing to the library user regarding the decision.

1503.00 FREEDOM TO READ STATEMENT

The freedom to read is essential to our democracy. It is continuously under attack. Private groups and public authorities in various parts of the country are working to remove or limit access to reading materials, to censor content in schools, to label "controversial" views, to distribute lists of "objectionable" books or authors, and to purge libraries. These actions apparently rise from a view that our national tradition of free expression is no longer valid; that censorship and suppression are needed to counter threats to safety or national security, as well as to avoid the subversion of politics and the corruption of morals. We, as individuals devoted to reading and as librarians and publishers responsible for disseminating ideas, wish to assert the public interest in the preservation of the freedom to read.

Most attempts at suppression rest on a denial of the fundamental premise of democracy: that the ordinary individual, by exercising critical judgment, will select the good and reject the bad. We trust Americans to recognize propaganda and misinformation, and to make their own decisions about what they read and believe. We do not believe they are prepared to sacrifice their heritage of a free press in order to be "protected" against what others think may be bad for them. We believe they still favor free enterprise in ideas and expression.

These efforts at suppression are related to a larger pattern of pressures being brought against education, the press, art and images, films, broadcast media, and the Internet. The problem is not only one of actual censorship. The shadow of fear cast by these pressures leads, we suspect, to an even larger voluntary curtailment of expression by those who seek to avoid controversy or unwelcome scrutiny by government officials.

Such pressure toward conformity is perhaps natural to a time of accelerated change. And yet suppression is never more dangerous than in such a time of social tension. Freedom has given the United States the elasticity to endure strain. Freedom keeps open the path of novel and creative solutions and enables change to come by choice. Every silencing of a heresy, every enforcement of an orthodoxy, diminishes the toughness and resilience of our society and leaves it the less able to deal with controversy and difference.

Now as always in our history, reading is among our greatest freedoms. The freedom to read and write is almost the only means for making generally available ideas or manners of expression that can initially command only a small audience. The written word is the natural medium for the new idea and the untried voice from which come the original contributions to social growth. It is essential to the extended discussion that serious thought requires, and to the accumulation of knowledge and ideas into organized collections.

We believe that free communication is essential to the preservation of a free society and a creative culture. We believe that these pressures toward conformity present the danger of limiting the range and variety of inquiry and expression on which our democracy and our culture depend. We believe that every American community must jealously guard the freedom to publish and to circulate, in order to preserve its own freedom to read. We believe that publishers and librarians have a profound responsibility to give validity to that freedom to read by making it possible for the readers to choose freely from a variety of offerings.

The freedom to read is guaranteed by the Constitution. Those with faith in free people will stand firm on these constitutional guarantees of essential rights and will exercise the responsibilities that accompany these rights.

We therefore affirm these propositions:

1. It is in the public interest for publishers and librarians to make available the widest diversity of views and expressions, including those that are unorthodox, unpopular, or considered dangerous by the majority.

Creative thought is by definition new, and what is new is different. The bearer of every new thought is a rebel until that idea is refined and tested. Totalitarian systems attempt to maintain themselves in power by the ruthless suppression of any concept that challenges the established orthodoxy. The power of a democratic system to adapt to change is vastly strengthened by the freedom of its citizens to choose widely from among conflicting opinions offered freely to them. To stifle every nonconformist idea at birth would mark the end of the democratic process. Furthermore, only through the constant activity of weighing and selecting can the democratic mind attain the strength demanded by times like these. We need to know not only what we believe but why we believe it.

2. Publishers, librarians, and booksellers do not need to endorse every idea or presentation they make available. It would conflict with the public interest for them to establish their own political, moral, or aesthetic views as a standard for determining what should be published or circulated.

Publishers and librarians serve the educational process by helping to make available knowledge and ideas required for the growth of the mind and the increase of learning. They do not foster education by imposing as mentors the patterns of their own thought. The people should have the freedom to read and consider a broader range of ideas than those that may be held by any single librarian or publisher or government or church. It is wrong that what one can read should be confined to what another thinks proper.

3. It is contrary to the public interest for publishers or librarians to bar access to writings on the basis of the personal history or political affiliations of the author.

No art or literature can flourish if it is to be measured by the political views or private lives of its creators. No society of free people can flourish that draws up lists of writers to whom it will not listen, whatever they may have to say.

4. There is no place in our society for efforts to coerce the taste of others, to confine adults to the reading matter deemed suitable for adolescents, or to inhibit the efforts of writers to achieve artistic expression.

To some, much of modern expression is shocking. But is not much of life itself shocking? We cut off literature at the source if we prevent writers from dealing with the stuff of life. Parents and teachers have a responsibility to prepare the young to meet the diversity of experiences in life to which they will be exposed, as they have a responsibility to help them learn to think critically for themselves. These are affirmative responsibilities, not to be discharged simply by preventing them from reading works for which they are not yet prepared. In these matters values differ, and values cannot be legislated; nor can machinery be devised that will suit the demands of one group without limiting the freedom of others.

5. It is not in the public interest to force a reader to accept the prejudgment of a label characterizing any expression or its author as subversive or dangerous.

The ideal of labeling presupposes the existence of individuals or groups with wisdom to determine by authority what is good or bad for others. It presupposes that individuals must be directed in making up their minds about the ideas they examine. But Americans do not need others to do their thinking for them.

6. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians, as guardians of the people's freedom to read, to contest encroachments upon that freedom by individuals or groups seeking to impose their own standards or tastes upon the community at large; and by the government whenever it seeks to reduce or deny public access to public information.

It is inevitable in the give and take of the democratic process that the political, the moral, or the aesthetic concepts of an individual or group will occasionally collide with those of another individual or group. In a free society individuals are free to determine for themselves what they wish to read, and each group is free to determine what it will recommend to its freely associated members. But no group has the right to take the law into its own hands, and to impose its own concept of politics or morality upon other members of a democratic society. Freedom is no freedom if it is accorded only to the accepted and the inoffensive. Further, democratic societies are more safe, free, and creative when the free flow of public information is not restricted by governmental prerogative or self-censorship.

7. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians to give full meaning to the freedom to read by providing books that enrich the quality and diversity of thought and expression. By the exercise of this affirmative responsibility, they can demonstrate that the answer to a "bad" book is a good one, the answer to a "bad" idea is a good one.

The freedom to read is of little consequence when the reader cannot obtain matter fit for that reader's purpose. What is needed is not only the absence of restraint, but the positive provision of opportunity for the people to read the best that has been thought and said. Books are the major channel by which the intellectual inheritance is handed down, and the principal means of its testing and growth. The defense of the freedom to read requires of all publishers and librarians the utmost of their faculties and deserves of all Americans the fullest of their support.

We state these propositions neither lightly nor as easy generalizations. We here stake out a lofty claim for the value of the written word. We do so because we believe that it is possessed of enormous variety and usefulness, worthy of cherishing and keeping free. We realize that the application of these propositions may mean the dissemination of ideas and manners of expression that are repugnant to many persons. We do not state these propositions in the comfortable belief that what people read is unimportant. We believe rather that what people read is deeply important; that ideas can be dangerous; but that the suppression of ideas is fatal to a democratic society. Freedom itself is a dangerous way of life, but it is ours.

This statement was originally issued in May of 1953 by the Westchester Conference of the American Library Association and the American Book Publishers Council, which in 1970 consolidated with the American Educational Publishers Institute to become the Association of American Publishers.

Adopted June 25, 1953, by the ALA Council and the AAP Freedom to Read Committee; amended January 28, 1972; January 16, 1991; July 12, 2000; June 30, 2004.

1504.00 FREEDOM TO VIEW STATEMENT

The freedom to view, along with the freedom to speak, to hear, and to read, is protected by the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. In a free society, there is no place for censorship of any medium of expression. Therefore, these principles are affirmed:

1. To provide the broadest access to film, video, and other audiovisual materials because they are a means for the communication of ideas. Liberty of circulation is essential to insure the constitutional guarantee of freedom of expression.
2. To protect the confidentiality of all individuals and institutions using film, video, and other audiovisual materials.
3. To provide film, video, and other audiovisual materials which represent a diversity of views and expression. Selection of a work does not constitute or imply agreement with or approval of the content.
4. To provide a diversity of viewpoints without the constraint of labeling or prejudging film, video, or other audiovisual materials on the basis of the moral, religious, or political beliefs of the producer or filmmaker or on the basis of controversial content.

5. To contest vigorously, by all lawful means, every encroachment upon the public's freedom to view.

This statement was originally drafted by the Freedom to View Committee of the American Film and Video Association (formerly the Educational Film Library Association) and was adopted by the AFVA Board of Directors in February 1979. This statement was updated and approved by the AFVA Board of Directors in 1989.

The library does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, or any other characteristics protected by local, state, and federal law.

1704.00 Library staff use the following criteria in making decisions about program topics, speakers, and accompanying resources:

Performers and presenters will not be excluded from consideration because of their origin, background, or views, or because of possible controversy. Staff who present programs do so as part of their regular job and are not hired as outside contractors for programming.

Library sponsorship of a program does not constitute an endorsement of the content of the program or the views expressed by participants, and program topics, speakers and resources are not excluded from programs because of possible controversy.

1705.00 Registration may be required for planning purposes or when space is limited. Programs may be held on site at any library location or off site. Upon request and within a reasonable period of time, a public office or person responsible for public records generally must make copies available at cost. (R.C. 149.43(B)(1).)

2002.00 Exception pertaining to Library Records and Patron Information

Ohio Law contains an exception to the Public Records law prohibiting public libraries from releasing any "library record" or disclosing any "patron information" except in certain specified situations. (R.C. 149.432.)

2002.10 "Library record" is defined to include a record in any form that is maintained by a library and that contains any of the following types of information.

- Information that the library requires an individual to provide in order to be eligible to use library services or borrow materials;
- Information that identifies an individual as having requested or obtained specific materials or materials on a particular subject; or
- Information that is provided by an individual to assist a library staff member to answer a specific question or provide information on a particular subject.

2002.20 However, the definition of "library record" does not include information that does not identify any individual and that is retained for the purpose of studying or evaluating the use of a library and its materials and services. (R.C. 149.432 (A)(2).)

2002.30 The Library may be required to release a library record or disclose patron information only in the following situations (R.C. 149.432(B)):

- If a library record or patron information pertaining to a minor child is requested from a library by the minor child's parent, guardian, or custodian;
- In accordance with a subpoena, search warrant, or other court order;
- At the request of a law enforcement officer who is acting in the scope of the officer's law enforcement duties and who is investigating a matter involving public safety in exigent circumstances;
- Upon the request of with the consent of the individual who is the subject of the record or information;
- For administrative library purposes, including establishment or maintenance of a system to manage the library records or to assist in the transfer of library records from one records management system to another, compilation of statistical data on library use, and collection of fines and penalties; or

- If the records document improper use of the internet at the library, so long as any patron information is removed from those records (for purposes of this exception, “patron information” does not include information about the age or gender of an individual).

2002.40 In the case of a subpoena or other process of law, such process shall be transmitted to the Executive Director on behalf of the Board of Trustees. The Executive Director shall thereupon release such information in compliance with such process or seek judicial or administrative relief.

2003.00 Providing the Requested Data

2003.10 If a requester makes an ambiguous or overly broad request, or has difficulty in making a request for copies or inspection of public records such that the library personnel cannot reasonably identify what public records are being requested, the library may deny the request, but must provide the requester with an opportunity to revise the request by informing the requestor of the manner in which records are maintained and accessed by the library in the ordinary course the library’s duties.

2003.20 Libraries, are, however, permitted to ask a requester to make the request in writing, to ask for the requester’s identity, and to inquire about the intended use of the information requested, but only after disclosing to the requester that a written request is not mandatory, and that the requester may decline to reveal the requester’s identity or the intended use; and, only when a written request or disclosure of the identity or intended use would benefit the requester by enhancing the ability of the library to identify, locate, or deliver the public records sought by the requester. (R.C. 149.43(B)(2).)

2003.30 Libraries may, however, require the requester to pay in advance the cost involved in providing the copy of the public record in accordance with the choice made by requester. In addition, libraries are not required to allow the requester to actually make the copies of the public record. (R.C. 149.43(B)(6).)

2003.40 When it becomes necessary for the Library to collect fines on or seek the return of library materials, the confidentiality shall be deemed waived with respect to such overdue fines or non returned items.

2005.00 RECORDS RETENTION POLICY

2005.01 Library Administration will follow a Records Retention Schedule approved by the Board and retained by the Fiscal Officer.

2005.02 The Mentor Public Library, like other public entities in the State of Ohio, must retain records from year to year. The Board of Trustees of the Mentor Public Library has created a Records Commission according to guidelines set forth in Ohio Revised Code

149.411. The commission shall consist of the Board of Library Trustees and the Fiscal Officer and will meet at least once every twelve months. The functions of the commission shall be to review applications for one-time disposal of obsolete records and schedules of records retention and disposition. The commission at any time may review any schedule it has previously approved and for good cause shown may revise that schedule. Schedules approved by the commission will be forwarded to the proper State entities for approval as set forth in Ohio Revised Code 149.381.

Records shall fall into two categories: Permanent and Non-Permanent. Retention of records may be in any commercially viable media that provides an accurate reproduction of the record. The authority for regular and on-going maintenance of records shall be vested with the Fiscal Officer and Director in accordance with the approved schedule of records retention and disposition.

2100.00 GIFTS AND DONATION POLICY

2101.00 GENERAL GIFTS

Gifts are defined as a voluntary transfer of property such as books, audiovisual, and/or magazines made gratuitously and without consideration to the library.

2101.10 In accepting a gift/donation of books or other materials, the Director or designee reserves the privilege of deciding if the material will be added to the permanent collection. Any staff member can receive these gifts/donations. The proper form should be completed and referred to the Director for formal acknowledgement, if warranted.

2101.20 The Library makes an effort to use donated materials. Items not added to the permanent collection are disposed of to the Friends or other agencies or completely discarded.

2101.30 If the donors wish to claim these gifts/donations as an income tax deduction, a receipt is given indicating the total number of items donated. No determination of the VALUE of such gifts/donation will be made by the library staff.

2101.40 All gifts to the Mentor Public Library become the sole property of the Library without any restrictions. The Mentor Public Library is responsible for the initial review or screening of all donated materials brought to the library or otherwise donated for the Friends of the Library Book Sale. Materials which upon receipt are found to be too deteriorated for either use or sale will be discarded immediately. All donated items remain the property of the Library until they are discarded, recycled, sold at a presale or sale, or given to a charity by the Library. A designated staff member or members may select books or other materials for the Library's collections or programs in accordance with the Library's established selection policy, or for use by Library staff in their programming activities, and at the staff member's discretion, may also select materials to offer to other area libraries for their collections. Pre-screening, review or sale of the items for personal use or for the use of any other persons, agencies or institutions will not be permitted. Any materials not selected through this pre-screening process by the designated library staff members will be stored for the book sale. As the items are being sorted and readied for sale, designated Library staff may pull items for inclusion into the Library's collection or programming activities.

2101.50 The Friends of the Library Board may authorize the sale of books and related materials to FOL book sale volunteers and library employees during the sorting process before the book sale.

2101.60 Upon request, the Friends of the Library may also authorize specific persons, agencies, or institutions for charitable purpose, to select materials at no cost for their collections during the sale. Disposal of the remaining books after the book sale should be timely with respect to accommodating the space designated for storage purposes.

2102.00 BEQUESTS (Gifts by will of personal property)

2102.10 Any such gift/bequests will be referred by the Director to the Board of Trustees or Legal Counsel for preparation of the proper Acceptance Resolution.

2103.00 ENDOWMENTS (Transfer as a gift of money or property to the Library for a particular purpose.)

2103.10 Any such endowments will be referred by the Director to the Board of Trustees or Legal Counsel for preparation of the property Acceptance Resolution.

2104.00 MEMORIALS

2104.10 Donation of money or books for a specific purpose of honoring the memory of an individual(s) is a MEMORIAL. The Director acknowledges such donation with specifically designed stationary. These are handled on a routine basis, adopted by the Board at its regularly scheduled meetings, and are recorded and filed in the Finance Office.

2106.00 TRIBUTE OR NAMING GIFTS POLICY

2106.10 The Library will accept gifts of cash, real estate, publicly traded securities or personal property without stipulation. Restricted gifts are not encouraged. However, the Library may accept gifts for designated areas of any building program. Multi-year gifts will be accepted up to a three year maximum. Donors may not stipulate “holding periods” for gifts.

2106.20 Donations are a way to honor a family or person, especially one who uses our library or enjoys reading. Appropriate plaques may be placed in “named” areas of the library, if the area is totally underwritten by one donor (one family, one individual, one business, etc.). The donor may not place stipulations on the décor, color, or furnishings of the named area.

2106.30 All gifts to the Mentor Public Library are tax-deductible as provided by law.

2107.00 NAMING POLICY The Mentor Public Library Board of Trustees considers the naming of a facility, room, permanent structures and/or items of some permanence in honor or memory of a living or deceased individual, corporation, foundation or organization to be a serious and commendable distinction. The Mentor Public Library seeks to recognize persons who have supported the Library and its mission through distinguished effort or substantial financial endowment when conferring naming rights.

The Mentor Public Library Board of Trustees considers the naming of a facility, room, permanent structures and/or items of some permanence in honor or memory of a living or deceased individual, corporation, foundation or organization to be a serious and commendable distinction. As such, the Mentor Public Library seeks to recognize persons who have supported the Library and its mission through distinguished effort or substantial financial endowment when conferring naming rights.

General Guidelines:

Naming opportunities for distinguished effort: A naming shall honor or memorialize an individual who has achieved exceptional distinction in librarianship and/or other areas of knowledge management or who has served Mentor Public Library in a professional capacity and has earned a state or national reputation for preeminent achievements in librarianship while employed by Mentor Public Library or merits major recognition in the Library's own history.

Naming opportunities due to a financial donation or endowment: A naming designation may be made directly after the benefactor, or it may retain or be given a functional title following which the benefactor will be recorded as its sponsor. Naming rights conferred through endowment and wills shall conform to the same responsibilities and guidelines as stipulated in this policy.

The credentials, character, and reputation of each individual shall be appropriately considered in the naming process. The Library Board of Trustees reserves the right to reject donations by individuals, groups, or organizations whose views or public statements are felt to be contrary to the mission and/or best interests of the Library.

Items encompassed by the naming policy include: endowment funds; deferred gifts; pooled donations and direct individual donations. Naming rights may include, but are not limited to, indoor/outdoor areas; facilities, individual rooms, designated gathering spaces and specific physical items. The Library Director may recommend additional items for consideration as deemed appropriate.

Naming rights are relative only to the "naming" of the room, facility, space or item and does not grant the naming party any control or input as to the use or purpose of the facility or item. Such decisions remain solely under the jurisdiction of the Director and the Library Board of Trustees.

Proposals for such a consideration should be submitted to the Library Director and should contain specific information in support of such a designation. If endorsed by the Library Director, the proposal will be forwarded to the Mentor Public Library Board of Trustees for approval.

Any necessary legal considerations will be formally addressed by resolution and include specifics relative to a particular designation before naming rights can be considered final. No publicity shall be given the recommendations for naming until it is set for approval by the Library Board of Trustees.

Upon approval on the naming by the Mentor Public Library Board of Trustees, an appropriate dedication ceremony may be planned and conducted to include the donor and their guests, the Board of Trustees, the Library's Director and any additional staff or persons as appropriate to such a dedication. Dedication plaques will be selected by Library administration and they shall determine the appropriateness of the signage, its size design, location, materials and content. The plaque may also designate the Board of Trustees and the Library Director at the time the name was approved.

Administration of funds generated through an endowment, deferred gifts, and pooled, individual, or sponsored donations shall be addressed in a separate policy and shall contain a mutually signed agreement that specifies the type of plan, amount of the income payments, purpose and use of the gift.

Naming rights due to a financial donation or endowment will normally not extend beyond the normal life of a room or item or for a period of not more than 25 years. Generally, naming rights for benefactors would be granted when there is a minimum commitment of five years to sustain the item or unless the donation covers the complete initial cost of the item in question. In the event that a room or building is substantially altered in a timeframe shorter than 75% of the agreed time from the original naming right, the Mentor Public Library reserves the right to extend the original designation.

Naming rights conferred due to distinguished efforts will remain in effect until deemed otherwise by resolution of the Board of Trustees and documented to include the factors that lead to such a determination. Any request to rename, add or remove a name from a room or item within the facilities or grounds of the Mentor Public Library should include documentation pertaining to the original approval and subsequent name change proposal. In the event that donor names must be removed for new construction, or in the event the Library is destroyed by natural disaster and is rebuilt to be used for its original purpose, recognition shall be replaced per the original agreement.

A facility or facilities, room, spaces and/or specific items may be renamed when it has or they have been designated for another use and may be named in recognition of a different honoree provided doing so does not conflict with the terms of the original agreement. Appropriate recognition of earlier honorees may be included in or adjacent to the newly renovated facilities as well as on any redeveloped property, facility or item.

Names which duplicate or are similar to names of other facilities, including streets are acceptable but may be augmented to distinguish them from existing locations. A dedication means that a facility or item will bear a plaque or marker stating the dedication of such in honor of a specific person, but the facility or item will not be known by the name of the person.

When a proposed facility or item is named in honor of an individual or group, the complete name of the individual or group will be used. A shortened version and/or the last name of the individual or group so honored may be used in referring informally to the facility.

Donors may choose to sponsor an entire Library building or facility, a major service area within the Library, meeting or conference rooms, or areas not already specifically designated. Donors may also contribute to the purchase of group or individual items such as furniture, shelving, collections, fixtures, etc. as approved by the Library Director. People interested in developing a pooled gift are encouraged to contact the Library Director to discuss appropriate options. All such plans will include details of the gift and a written statement of intent.

Board approved designations shall be considered irrevocable unless the criteria for approval has been significantly altered or compromised, the policy guidelines have been changed by Board resolution or the terms of such a designation have expired.

Unless the Library Director determines otherwise, a person's or corporations' name may be used in naming a library room or space only once. Negotiations for the naming rights of a particular room or item may be initiated by the Library Director or with the attorney by a benefactor or other interested parties. In the event that the flow of funds agreed to constitute a naming opportunity ceases before the agreed time, the Library Director may recommend to the Library Board of Trustees that the use of the benefactor's name be discontinued.

When a major building project is to be undertaken a tailored naming policy may be proposed for various rooms, parts of a building, specific designated location, its environs of limited physical items. In other words, a tailored naming policy may be proposed to address specific areas on the property that are separate from the main building itself, such as additions to the structure, amphitheater, landscape designs, deck or garage. Such a policy will require the endorsement of the Library Director for recommendation to the Library Board of Trustees.

This policy will be reviewed as needed and is subject to change. Such change will be by Board resolution or as specifically designated through Board resolution. Naming rights may be considered for both monetary and in-kind donations.

RESOLUTION #10-029

2108.00 SPONSORSHIP POLICY

The Mentor Public Library welcomes sponsorship from local businesses, corporations, community groups, families, and individuals. The aim of sponsorship is to obtain funding or in-kind support to provide services and equipment that may not otherwise be available. A sponsorship is an exchange in which a sponsor's donation of cash, products, equipment, or services is publicly acknowledged by the Library.

Sponsorship Guiding Principles:

Agreements between the Library, its sponsors, and collaborative partners must benefit all parties. These relationships should further the Library's mission, goals, objectives, and priorities in the following ways:

- Increase Library visibility in the community.
- Support regular or special Library activities, services, events, and programs.
- Enhance or create ways to respond to identified community needs.

The following principles will guide Mentor Public Library in the solicitation and acceptance of gifts or support. Sponsorships must:

- Safeguard equity of access to library services. Sponsorship agreements must not give unfair advantage to, or cause discrimination against, sectors of the community.
- Protect the principle of intellectual freedom. Sponsors may not direct the selection of collections or require endorsement of products or services.
- Leave open the opportunity for other actual or potential donors to have similar opportunities to provide support to the library.
- Ensure the confidentiality of user records. The library will not sell or provide access to library records in exchange for gifts or support.
- Honor the community's trust in the Library

Sponsorships do not imply Library endorsement of the sponsor, its products, or services. The Library reserves the right to refuse any sponsorship that it feels is inappropriate or unsuitable and may cancel any sponsorships at any time in its sole discretion. The sponsor is responsible for determining deductibility and gift valuation for tax purposes.

Recognition and Acknowledgment

The library will ensure that each sponsor receives acknowledgement and, to the degree that the donor is willing, public recognition. The following guidelines will be used in providing acknowledgement to and recognition of sponsors:

- A letter of acknowledgement for gifts of money and in-kind support will be sent to all sponsors and will be included in the board packet
- Any special recognition agreements will be stipulated in the letter.

Approval

Sponsorships will be subject to the approval of the Executive Director or their designee.

Authority for Implementation

The library reserves the right to make decisions regarding the implementation of each gift or offer of in-kind support. Purchasing decisions, including type of materials, equipment, furnishings, or other components of a gift will reside with library management. Program development and resource allocation will also reside with library management.

2300 SERVICE TO PATRONS

2301.00 GENERAL STATEMENT OF PATRON RESPONSIBILITY

A library card is a valuable resource. A library patron is responsible for all materials checked out on his or her library card, and if such materials are returned late, damaged, or lost, the patron is responsible for paying fines and/or replacement fees. The parent or legal guardian of a minor patron is responsible for all materials checked out on the minor patron's card.

- All Ohio residents are eligible to get a library card with proper identification.
- There is no age requirement to become a Mentor Public Library cardholder.
- Before you can borrow items from the Library you must provide a valid form of identification with your current address.
- Individuals under 18 years old may apply for a library card in person with a parent or legal guardian.
 - The parent/guardian will need to present picture ID.
 - A parent/guardian accepts responsibility for all borrowed materials on the minor's card.
 - A parent/guardian is responsible for the appropriateness of materials used by individuals under 18 years old, including electronic information and for payment of charges incurred with the card.

On the day of issue of a new library card patrons will be limited to 10 items with a max of 5 audiovisual items.

If your card is lost or stolen, please notify library staff immediately and a block will be placed on your card. There is a replacement card fee for lost cards.

If you had a library card with us in the past and it is no longer active, you will need to go to any Mentor Public Library location to reactivate or replace your card.

MPL Board of Trustees approved: res. #17-067 August 16, 2017

2302.00 BORROWING MATERIALS POLICY

The maximum number of items permitted to be checked out on a library card at one time is 150. Due to limited quantity or cost, some materials may have specific limits on the quantity permitted to be checked out on a library card.

A borrower shall be notified when library materials are overdue. We will in good faith attempt to notify patrons that their materials are overdue on two occasions.

When a patron's card reaches $10.00 in fines, fees, and/or lost items the card will be considered delinquent. In order for patrons to check out materials the total fines/fees must be below $10.00. When a patron's card has 5 or more items overdue, the account will be blocked until the items are returned. If an item is not returned within 21 days of the due date, the patron will be charged the replacement cost of the item.

The Mentor Public Library uses a collection agency to encourage patrons to return their overdue materials to the library. In fairness to all patrons, the library will pass the cost of this service on to each patron whose account must be handled by the collection agency ($15.00). The Library hopes this practice will encourage all library borrowers to return items by the date due. Book and video return drop boxes are available when the library is closed.

If the items are not returned and the total billed is $50.00 or more patrons will be turned over to a collection agency. Fees for damaged items will be the list price of a new item. Patrons returning items with missing pieces or booklets will be charged the full price of the item since an incomplete item cannot be circulated.

The Mentor Public Library has eliminated overdue fines on most items including books, dvds, magazines, and cds. The following items will accrue overdue fines:

- Hotspots/electronic devices
- Library of Things items
- Interlibrary Loan items
- Book kits

The above applies to Mentor Public Library items. Items borrowed from other Clevnet Libraries will be subject to the fine policy of the owning library.

It is the intention of Mentor Public Library to maintain a high physical quality of materials. The Library does not accept replacement items for lost or damaged materials without prior authorization. No refunds will be issued once an item is paid for by the patron. The patron may keep the item once paid in full, if the lost or damaged item is still available.

2304.00 BEHAVIOR AND CONDUCT

To maintain an atmosphere appropriate for work, study, and enjoyment for all Library patrons and staff, the Library Board of Trustees has established the following policy on behavior and conduct in the Library and on Library property. This policy will be courteously, but firmly, enforced by Library staff and by the Mentor Police Department as warranted.

Public Libraries are ‘limited public forums’ and as such are permitted to restrict activities that are not consistent with the nature of libraries, and to impose content-neutral, reasonable time, place, and manner restrictions.

Mentor Public Library welcomes children and vulnerable adults to use its facilities and services. The Library does not act in loco parentis (in place of parents) and library staff members cannot supervise children or vulnerable adults in the library. The parent, or legal guardian, is responsible for ensuring that children and/or vulnerable adult are provided with adequate care and supervision while in the Library.

Children under the age of seven (7) along with children and vulnerable adults who are unable or unwilling to care for themselves must be attended at all times by a parent, legal guardian, teacher, custodian, or caregiver. If attended by a custodian or caregiver, the custodian or caregiver must be able to provide adequate care and supervision and must be at least 16 years of age.

The proper authorities will be notified if children under the age of seven (7) or children or vulnerable adults who are unable or unwilling to care for themselves are left unsupervised or unattended. A child who creates chronic problems may be required to bring a responsible adult who will remain with the juvenile at all times.

Appropriate Library activities include doing homework, writing reports, researching, browsing for materials, reading, thinking, attending programs, and using Library equipment such as computers and copiers. These activities are to be conducted in a manner so as not to disturb others. Group study by four at one table and quiet tutoring of one or two students are permitted. Group study by, or tutoring of, more students at one time, or any group work which creates enough noise to disrupt other patrons will not be permitted. The Library offers the use of meeting rooms for small group activities per our meeting room policy. However, not all areas of the Library are open to the public.

Prohibitions on Conduct

No individual may engage in inappropriate conduct on the premises of Mentor Public Library, when using Library facilities, or when participating in Library programs either on or off-site. Inappropriate conduct includes, but is not limited to:

- Running, horseplay, or engaging in physically dangerous activities or behavior.
- Littering, including leaving wrappers, papers, and/or crumbs anywhere on Library premises.
- Swearing, engaging in excessive or disruptive conversations, yelling or talking loudly, or using personal electronic equipment at such a volume or making ongoing noise that is unreasonably disturbing to other Library users.
- Committing or attempting to commit any activity that would constitute a crime or a violation of the City of Mentor ordinances.
- Engaging in any physically intimidating or assaultive behavior, or any threats of violence or unlawful activities.
- Possessing, selling, distributing, consuming, or being under the influence of any alcoholic beverage or controlled substance.
- Refusing to follow the reasonable directions of Library staff, including but not limited to, failing to take shelter in an emergency as directed by staff.
- Engaging in any behavior that a reasonable person would find to be disruptive, harassing, or threatening in nature to Library users/patrons or staff including stalking, prolonged staring at, or following another with the intent to annoy or intentionally behaving in a manner that could reasonably be expected to annoy or disturb others.
- Engaging or attempting to engage in any sexual contact, activities, or conduct.
- Selling, soliciting, surveying, distributing written materials, panhandling, or canvassing Library property (inside and outside).
- Petitioning is permitted on the sidewalks and other outdoor public areas around the library as long as the activity does not interfere with patrons accessing the library entrance or library services. Petitioners are not permitted to block access to the library, harass patrons, gather signatures inside the library or intimate that the Library endorses or supports the cause.
- Eating or drinking while using Library computers or in spaces designated as free from food. Light snacks may be enjoyed responsibly in designated areas.

- Sleeping, napping, or dozing in or on Library premises at any time.
- Failure to wear appropriate covering of one's body, including the failure to wear shoes or other soled footwear.
- Entering or remaining upon Library premises with bodily hygiene so offensive that it constitutes a nuisance to others.
- Moving furniture without the express consent of the Library staff or use of furniture in any manner that may damage the furniture, including placing feet on the furniture.
- Using Library materials, furniture, equipment, or facilities in any manner inconsistent with the customary use thereof, or the theft or intentional damaging of Library materials, furniture, equipment, or facilities, or the property of any patron or Library user.
- Interfering with the safe and free passage of Library staff or patrons on the premises, including but not limited to the placement of objects in hallways, aisles, flooring or elsewhere in a manner that impedes the free passage of such persons about the Library.
- Leaving items unattended on Library premises at any time. Items may be removed from the Library premises if they reasonably appear to be abandoned or have been left unattended for 30 minutes or more.
- Bringing any animal into the Library except service animals.
- Entering non-public areas of the Library without permission.
- Improperly using Library restrooms or facilities for purposes such as bathing, shaving, or changing clothes.
- Overnight parking is not permitted without the approval of Library administration.
- Overnight sleeping on any library property is not permitted.
- Photographing or videotaping, or otherwise recording other patrons, the activities of other patrons, or otherwise interfering with the privacy of other patrons, except as specifically permitted by law.
- Photographing, videotaping, or recording any nonpublic areas of the library, such as restrooms and employee-only areas.
- Smoking or using tobacco products (pursuant to Ohio Revised Code Chapter 3794; Ohio Revised Code §3791.031; and Mentor City Ordinance §521.10); using any chewing tobacco or snuff tobacco on the premises or any similar substance which involves expectoration; or smoking using an electronic or any other substitute for tobacco.
- Violating the Library's rules for acceptable use of the internet and Library public computers. A user accepts these rules before accessing the Internet through a Library computer. Copies of these rules will be made available by staff upon request.
- While on Library premises no person shall possess, have under the person's control, convey, or attempt to convey a deadly weapon or dangerous ordnance or other dangerous instrumentality, onto the Library premises, which, in the opinion of the Library management, constitutes a potential threat to the health, safety and welfare of anyone, unless permitted to do so pursuant to federal or state law. Pursuant to R.C. 2923.1210, a business owner, property owner, or public or private employer may not establish, maintain, or enforce a policy or rule that prohibits or has the effect of prohibiting a person who has been issued a valid concealed handgun license from transporting or storing a firearm or ammunition when both of the following conditions are met: 1) each firearm and all of the ammunition is locked within the trunk, glove box, or other enclosed compartment or container within or on the person's privately owned motor vehicle; and 2) the vehicle is in a location where it is otherwise permitted to be.

- Engaging in any other conduct that is inconsistent with those activities normally associated with the use of a public library facility (reading, studying, and using library materials).

Violation of Policy

Patrons who are behaving in violation of this policy will be warned that the behavior must stop. If the behavior is not corrected, the person will be told to leave the premises. Anyone who does not leave after being told to do so will be considered a trespasser and will be treated accordingly.

Mentor Public Library reserves the right to suspend or ban patrons that do not follow the Library's Behavior and Conduct Policy. Patrons engaged in conduct that poses an immediate risk to health or safety may be expelled from Library premises without prior warning and with or without the assistance of local law enforcement. Patrons will be given the opportunity to present a statement prior to the determination of any suspension of library privileges.

Restriction on Library use will be enacted for a period of time based on the severity of the offense, the customer's history or policy violations, and any other relevant factors. Once the period of suspension is complete, and before they can regain Library access, patrons must meet with Library Administration to discuss continued use of Mentor Public Library. Minors will be expected to bring a parent or guardian to meet with Library Administration before reinstatement of Library privileges.

Appeals may be made to the Library Director

Thank you for your cooperation.

2305.00 VIDEO SURVEILLANCE & RECORDING

The purpose of video surveillance is to deter crime, to aid in protecting the safety of individuals, and to secure the property and assets of the Mentor Public Library. Video surveillance complements other measures to ensure compliance with the Library's Behavior Policy and other Library policies in creating a safe and secure environment for patrons and staff.

Video surveillance of areas for security purposes is conducted in a manner consistent with other existing Library policies, and is limited to uses that do not violate the reasonable expectation of privacy. Areas under surveillance may include, but are not limited to, those of public use, staff work areas, parking lots, and grounds. Targeted video surveillance is prohibited if such observation is based on the characteristics and classifications that would be considered discriminatory under law (e.g., race, gender, sexual orientation, national origin, disability, etc.).

The existence of this policy does not imply or guarantee that any or all cameras are recording images, or are monitored in real time, 24 hours a day, and seven days a week.

The Library's security records are not public records under O.R.C. 149.43 and they are not subject to mandatory release or disclosure except as required under that section. See O.R.C. 149.433(B). The footage may be made available to public safety forces or the courts under some conditions including subpoena or exigent circumstances.

2306.00 Procedure for Speaking at the Mentor Public Library Board of Trustees Meetings

The Board of Trustees of the Mentor Public Library welcomes you to this meeting. We conduct our meetings in strict compliance with the State of Ohio's "Open Meetings Law." The law allows for board meetings to be open for public observance. Since we value the ideas and insights of our community residents, it is the policy of this board to allow time at each meeting for a public presentation on both agenda items and items of public interest.

If you wish to speak to this Board during the meeting, please complete the form at the bottom of this page. Then hand it to either a board member or the Director before the meeting. Only persons who have completed the form will be allowed time to speak. When the board reaches that portion of the agenda, you will be called upon by the board president.

The presiding officer shall be guided by the following rules:

- A. Public participation shall be permitted only as indicated on the agenda and at the discretion of the presiding officer.
- B. Anyone having a legitimate interest in the actions of the board may participate during the public portion of a meeting after being recognized by the presiding officer.
- C. Participants must be recognized by the presiding officer and must preface their comments by an announcement of their name and city of residence.

- D. Each statement made by a participant shall be limited to three (3) minutes duration, unless extended by the presiding officer. Any questions must be addressed to the presiding officer.
- E. No participant may speak more than once on the same topic unless all others who wish to speak on that topic have been heard.
- F. The presiding officer has the right and power to control the meeting and may take whatever actions are necessary to ensure an orderly meeting.

Speakers may offer such objective criticism of library operations and programs as concern them. But in public session, the board will not hear complaints about library personnel nor against any person connected with the library system. Other channels provide for board consideration and disposition of legitimate complaints involving individual employees of the library.

At other times board members may wish to ask for information from persons in the audience. Please refrain from comment unless the board asks you to comment. Board members are always anxious to hear from the community outside the meeting. Our meeting agenda usually does not allow for a continuous public debate.

Thank you for helping to conduct an open and orderly meeting.
